

JBI Evidence Implementation Training Program

Lead meaningful change by implementing evidence into practice

Join the four-day flagship program and develop the knowledge and practical skills needed to implement evidence-based change in healthcare, policy and health systems.

Why attend?

- Explore the foundations of evidence implementation and person-centred care
- Learn how to apply JBI's audit and feedback framework to assess current practice
- Identify local barriers and enablers influencing practice change
- Develop practical, context-specific strategies for implementing evidence-based change

What's included

- Led by world-class JBI trainers: A/Prof Craig Lockwood, Alexa McArthur and Dr Lucylynn Lizarondo
- A structured workplace implementation project supported by a JBI Research Facilitator
- Access to all workshop materials
- Six months complimentary access to JBI PACES
- Certificate of completion (full attendance required)

Workplace project

A key component of the program is applying learning to a workplace-based implementation project.

Participants will use JBI methods to complete a baseline audit, implement practice change, and conduct a follow-up audit.

Before registering, participants should identify a potential improvement topic and discuss it with their workplace supervisor to ensure appropriate time and organisational support.

Program snapshot

-  Four days, bespoke training
-  AUD $5,500 (incl. GST)

Spaces are limited. Visit the JBI website to register today and start advancing your expertise in evidence-based healthcare.

- 20% discount for Adelaide University staff and students
- 20% discount for JBI Field Expert Reference Groups and Collaborators

For discount access, email: jbieducation@adelaide.edu.au